Tom has over 15 years' experience in the trade mark profession and a significant track record in advising a broad range of clients on all aspects of trade mark and design clearance, prosecution, portfolio management and enforcement, including in relation to some of the world's most well-known brands. Tom's clients include household names in the publishing, luxury goods, food, clothing and charity sectors.

In the alcoholic beverage sector, Tom has previously advised Bacardi & Company Limited for a number of years. Tom's current team advise the UK Wine Merchant Bibendum Wine Limited.

Tom strives to give clients practical, cost effective and above all commercial advice that will enable them to make effective and efficient use of their trade mark and design rights in order to further their business interests.

Tom has taught student members of ITMA taking their final examinations for a number of years, and is a former Examiner for ITMA.

Tom joined J A Kemp in 2010 after working in the Simmons & Simmons Intellectual Property Group, and for Groom Wilkes & Wright LLP, a specialist firm of Trade Mark Attorneys.
